1.-Articles 13, 14 and 15 of RD 99/2011, dated 28 January (BOE, 10 February), which regulates official doctoral tuition.

Article 14.7 (modified by the second article in R.D. 534/2013, dated 12 July) (BOE 13/07/2013)

The tribunal will issue a report and the overall mark given to the thesis, as per the following scale: 'Fail' / 'Pass' / 'Good' / 'Excellent'.

The tribunal may award a "cum laude" if the overall mark is 'excellent' and the secret vote held is unanimously in favour.

The University will activate the necessary mechanisms to materialise the granting of said award, guaranteeing that the votes for the award are closely scrutinised in a session not corresponding to the defence of the doctoral thesis.

2.-Title III of the Resolution dated 20/12/2013, from the University of Zaragoza Governance Council, on the 'Regulation on Doctoral Theses' (BOUZ 10/01/2014), transcribed below.

THESIS EVALUATION TRIBUNAL

Article 8: Composition of the tribunal

1. The thesis evaluation tribunal comprises three full members and two alternates.

When the subject matter of the thesis requires it, the director of the thesis may reasonably request the Academic Commission responsible for the doctoral programme appoint an evaluation tribunal comprising five members and two alternates.

2. All members of the tribunal must be qualified doctors and have certified research experience.

Those doctors who have been acknowledged by the Doctoral Commission, under the objective public criteria and by branches of knowledge will be understood to have certified research experience. In any case, those doctors who have had a period of research activity or a six-year period acknowledged are considered certified, as are any others that have had their research experience acknowledged previously by the Doctoral Commission for the purposes of becoming thesis directors or participating on thesis tribunals.

3. No more than two members of a single university may sit on the same tribunal. In any case, the majority of the participants in the full tribunal will not be from the University of Zaragoza or the centres and institutes that work with the School or the doctoral programme.

4. The thesis director(s) may not be on the tribunal, other than where the theses presented lie within the framework of bilateral joint supervision agreements with foreign universities, for which this is planned. In that case, the tribunal shall increase by as many members as directors, while these parties shall participate as tribunal members only for the reading of the thesis at the foreign university.

Article 9: Appointing the members of the tribunal

1. The Permanent Commission from the Board at the School of Doctoral Studies appoints the members of the tribunal based on the proposal sent by the Academic Commission responsible for the doctorate, in the same decision in which authorisation is given for a defence.

2. The appointment will specify the full members, who will be president, secretary and spokesperson, and those who will be the first and second alternates. Should a full member legitimately withdraw, then the president of the tribunal will replace this person with the corresponding alternate. Should the person withdrawing be either the president of the secretary, the first alternate will replace the president and the second the secretary; when replacing the spokesperson(s), the alternates will be called upon in order.

Article 10: Convening of the defence of the thesis

1. The thesis defence proceedings will be convened by the president of the tribunal and passed on by the secretary to the School of Doctoral Studies.

2. The nominated day must be a term day within the four months following the appointment of the tribunal.

3. The communication referred to in the preceding section will be achieved at least ten academic days prior to the defence being undertaken.

4. The School of Doctoral Studies and the Academic Commission for the doctoral programme will announce the thesis defence proceedings to the student body.

Article 11: Defending the thesis

1. The thesis will be defended in a public session in any of the University of Zaragoza facilities or those of centres or institutes partnered with the School or the doctoral programme.

2. The thesis defence proceedings consist of the candidate giving a presentation of the work undertaken, methodology, results and conclusions, with emphasis on original contributions.

3. The presentation shall last no longer than one hour, except when the president deems it appropriate.

4. At the end of the presentation, the members of the tribunal will ask the candidate as many questions as they wish. Likewise, the doctors present for these public proceedings may also ask questions at the time and in the manner indicated by the tribunal president. The candidate can take the floor to respond for the amount of time the president deems reasonable.

Article 12: Evaluation of the thesis

1. At the end of the presentation and public debate of the thesis, the tribunal will deliberate behind closed doors.

2. Each member of the tribunal will issue a report on the summary of the thesis and how the defence proceeded. The overall mark for the thesis will be given based on the following scale: fail; pass; good; excellent. The doctoral candidate will be informed of the qualification immediately after, this being pronounced in public.

3. If the overall mark is excellent, each member of the tribunal may propose the awarding of 'cum laude' in a secret ballot. Votes for the award will be scrutinised once the thesis defence proceedings have concluded, in an administrative section of the School of Doctoral Studies and in the presence of the secretary of the tribunal. This certification will be granted when the vote in favour is unanimous.

Article 13: Delivering the documents

1. The tribunal secretary will be responsible for delivering all the documents that the thesis defence proceedings have created in the administrative section of the School of Doctoral Studies responsible for the proceedings.

2. Once the doctoral thesis has been passed, the University will take care of the open, electronic file, placing it in an institutional archive and sending an e-copy and all necessary information to the Ministry of Education in witness thereof.

3. Under exceptional circumstances determined by the Programme's Academic Commission, e.g. participation of companies in the research, a non-disclosure agreement with them or the possibility to generate patents based on the contents of the thesis, a special protocol is to be followed, detailed in sections 4 and 5 in article 14 in RD 99/2011, to ensure these features are not published.

3.- Resolution dated 20/12/2013, from the Doctoral Commission, on the requirements to be a member of a thesis tribunal or a thesis director.

"For the purposes of the provisions of the "Regulation on Doctoral Theses", approved by the Governance Council on 20 December 2013, the Doctoral Commission agrees to acknowledge certified research experience among:

those who have at least obtained acknowledgement of research activity or a six-year period from the CNEAI or - in the belief of the Doctoral Commission - those who have an equivalent research experience to that mentioned before, per the specific criteria for each branch of knowledge". (See in:

https://escueladoctorado.unizar.es/sites/escueladoctorado.unizar.es/files/users/docto/expinv_mod.pdf).

Where there is not even acknowledgement of a six-year period, recognition of the research experience can be requested from the Doctoral Commission using this form at, over a month prior, using the specific research experience recognition form (<https://escueladoctorado.unizar.es/es/impresos>).

4.- Instruction on open publication of doctoral theses in the institutional archives pertaining to the University of Zaragoza, approved by the Steering Committee (30/05/2017).

For theses with protected content, add the CP-2 form completed by the members of the tribunal and of the Programme's Academic Commission.
